Model Coherency Refresher: An SRV-Based Framework for Designing and Evaluating Services

“Ringling in your hearts and minds..... Who are the people, and what do they need? ”

“The concept of model coherency is one of the themes of and for Social Role Valorization (SRV) theory. Yet another fabulous "gem" of SRV, this concept is so helpful when both designing and evaluating a service. How well a service "hangs together" in every way is the big idea behind Model Coherency. This workshop is designed for those who have some training in Social Role Valorization, and those who have also done deep SRV study. Be prepared for hands-on experiential learning, as we take the ideas and put them to work together..”

Pre-requisite: The presentations will be conducted primarily in English, so excellent fluency in English is necessary.
